Encyclopedia.com

Photojournalism is a particular form of journalism that employs images in order to tell a news story. It is now usually understood to refer only to still images, but in some cases the term also refers to video used in broadcast journalism.

Photojournalism is distinguished from other close branches of photography by complying with a rigid ethical framework which demands that the work be both honest and impartial whilst telling the story in strictly journalistic terms.

Photojournalism - Wikipedia

Photojournalism was the product of global technology. From the 1930s, images could be sent by electronic means from remote locations to picture agencies and magazines. The future appeared to be tied to technological advance and signs of progress lay on all sides - from a space-suited nuclear family to the first Concorde, recorded in the year of the Moon's conquest.
