The gnostic roots of centering prayer. A method of a prayer with the curious name “centering prayer” is currently being promoted (has been for decades) in the Catholic Church, especially in the circles close to the contemplative Orders, especially Carmelites. It is routinely taught as a part of workshops or seminars and presented as “an entirely Christian method of prayer” and even as derived from the teaching of St John of

In the view of centering prayer, the immanence of God somehow makes the transcendence of God available to human techniques and experience. Centering prayer is essentially a form of self-hypnosis. It makes use of a “mantra,” a word repeated over and over to focus the mind while striving by one’s will to go deep within oneself.

The Centering Prayer seems a bit like the mantra technique, except that it includes an "intent" to become one with God. Some meditation experts say that stating such an intent takes you in the opposite direction because it implies there is still a gulf that needs to be crossed to get there, whereas as Jesus stated, the Kingdom of Heaven is already at hand.
